68th Greater Boston Open

Bob Messenger

National Master Hal Terrie of Manchester, N.H. was the unexpected winner of the 68th Greater Boston Open, defeating Grandmaster Alexander Kalinin of Brighton in the last round.

Hal was down to one second on his clock in an inferior position, but avoided losing on time because of the clock's five second delay feature. Eventually Kalinin also became short on time and blundered during the time scramble. He resigned after making an illegal move which would have given Terrie an additional two minutes on the clock.

12-years-old Max Enkin of Peabody also had an excellent tournament, tying for second place by beating International Master Bill Paschall and drawing with FIDE Master Bill Kelleher in the last two rounds. The other second place winners were Kelleher and Ben Goldberg of Attleboro.

There was a total of 65 players in the tournament, which was directed by Bob Messenger with the assistance of Steve Frymer.

A book position. The thing I hate about this is that Black can make waiting moves forever, slowly shuffling his pieces around and waiting for the chance at a pawn break. I've just never understood how to play the White side of this.

14.h3 Nc5 15.Qc2 Rac8 16.g4

For no particular reason, I decided to play it this way. Probably because I had tried all the "normal" plans in other games with poor results.

16...h6 17.Nde2 Qb8 18.Qb1 Ba8

Get used to it - the whole game is going to be like this. He just drives me crazy by moving back and forth, doing nothing.

19.a4 Bf8 20.Red1 Bb7 21.Ng3 Bc6 22.Qa2 Ncd7 23.Rc2

By now I was down to 12 minutes, while he had almost an hour. It became clear that he was just going to keep doing the same old thing and hope that I fell on time.

23...Ne5 24.Rcc1

I was determined not to give it away with an outright blunder, which is what he was waiting for.

24...Qb7 25.Qe2

I had one minute left now (plus the five second delay of course).

Oops. He finally plays a really strong move.

He now has a strategically won game. I was not going to resign though until he actually forced it. 36.Rc2 Nc5 37.Rb1 Qa8 38.Kg1

No more moves recorded. He traded off the N on e2 at some point and won the b-pawn. With opposite bishops and all the pawns on the same side, it wasn't so easy to make progress and he got low on time too.

Finally, to my amazement, he fell for a cheapo and lost a whole rook. I don't remember all the moves but I do know the position at the end.

We had been blitzing for some time. He had about two minutes. I

I forgot the analysis in this main variation. I had to figure it out cold and I missed plently. See below. I overlooked that after 11...c6 12.Bf1 Black can play 12...Qc7; I also overlooked that after the other main move: 11...c5 White cannot play 12.dxe5 dxe5 13.Nxe5 because of 13...Nc7.

About MACA

The Massachusetts Chess Association is an educational non-profit organization whose purpose is to promote chess in Massachusetts and represent the interest of chess players within the state to the governing body of chess in the United States, The United States Chess Federation (USCF).

As part of its role as a state organization, MACA has programs in place to support the existing chess community as well as promote chess among schools and the general public. Highlights of these programs are:

Providing at least five major tournaments each year:

Massachusetts Open (State Championship) Massachusetts Game/60 Championship Greater Boston Open Danvers 30/30 (William J. Comeau Memorial) Pillsbury Memorial

Running a scholastic program, which consists of a series of tournaments to determine the state's scholastic champions as well as "warm up" tournaments throughout the year. Free boards and sets are provided to schools and clubs through MACA's Comeau and Living Memorial Chess Fund (LMCF).

Quarterly publication of the award winning Chess Horizons, a journal of regional, national and international chess news and features.

Promotion and development of chess in correctional institutions through our Prison Chess program.

We hope you will chose to join MACA and enjoy the benefits of membership while knowing that you are helping to promote chess throughout Massachusetts.
